		Dhyan - Meditation
		Yoga
		Bhajans - Devotional Singing
Meal	7:00 AM	Breakfast
Session 2	8:00 AM - 9:00 AM	Temple & Institutions of the Future, Fulfilling Our Hopes and Needs

		The temples we have so lovingly built are destined to become museums unless they meet the spiritual, emotional and social needs of the next generation. The temple of the future will not only be a holy place to honor God but will also be a thriving center for community life offering opportunities for nurturing and support from birth to old age. The temple will have crisis support through Hindu chaplaincy, function halls, sports courts, career/financial counseling, child and elder day care, and service opportunities that will reach out to meet the needs of the whole community including non-Hindus. Traditional subjects such as yoga, meditation, dance, music and language
2.1		Temples as Learning Centers
2.2		Temples as Community Centers
2.3		Chaplaincy Service and Counseling (Hindu American University)
2.4		Temple Centered Retirement Communities
		Q&A
Session 3	9:00 AM - 10:10 AM	Youth, Young Adult Engagement
		When addressing challenges of the 21st century, addressing youth engagement is of utmost importance. Ensuring that children, teens and young adults are actively engaged in their mandir community is important to preserve the longevity and vibrancy of our temples in North America. This session aims to address the current state as well as propose several methods for strengthening youth involvement
3.1		Hindu Dharma's Position on Social Justice Issues
3.2		Temple Internship/Employment as a Means for Engagement
3.3
3.4		Interfaith Marriages: Summary of 12 years of Research (interfaithshaadi.org)
		Q&A
Break	10:10 AM - 10:30 AM	Relaxation
Session 4	10:30 AM - 11:30 AM	Seva As An Inter Generational Bridge
		Seva or service is a key driver that can bring multiple generations together under a common objective. Hindu Dharma has always promoted seva within our communities and doing good by giving of our time, wealth, knowledge. North American society is always challenged with time, but also find the greatest of joys in giving time. Seva projects that can act as a bridge between generations will create shared experiences, enable knowledge share, mutual respect and learning that can bring us closer to sustaining Dharma
4A.1		Encouraging volunteerism: Recognition programs for youth and adults
4A.2		Hindu Chaplaincy as a form of outreach and seva - military, hospice, hospital, university?

Meal	12:30 PM - 1:30 PM	Lunch
SATURDAY POST-LUNCH PROGRAM
SATURDAY September 16, 2017
Parallel - Break Out Sessions (A, B, C, D)
Session 6A	1:30 PM - 2:30 PM	Temple Conceptualization, Construction, Operations and Management
		Our temples are our spiritual homes and we build them with the hope they will last forever, but many are already falling into disrepair. The temple of the 21st century needs to be beautiful, durable and "green" as well. This session will explore construction, renovation, and management concepts that enable temples to meet the needs of vastu shastra.
6A.1		Temple Construction East Meets West
6A.2		Green Temple Techniques--Eddy Stern
6A.3		Renovations & Rehabilitation
6A.4		Apps for Temple Management & Maintenance
		Q&A
Session 6B Sat	1:30 PM - 2:30 PM	Young, Youth Education Program and Curriculum
		The temples need to be equipped with a program for Hindu education, which can start from something very basic "Bal Vihar" style for kids, to a multipronged program for all age groups, both young & old. The curriculum can be taken from the best of the already active programs, eg: Arsha Vidya Gurukulam, Chinmaya Mission, temples like Minneapolis (Vishal Agarwal's well researched curriculum which he has willingly shared in the past) or others like Toledo etc which may have written subject matter available.
6B.1		Chinmaya Mission Bal Vihar Program
6B.2		Arsha Vidya Gurukulam
6B.3		Chinyana Yuva Kendra Program
6B.4		Parents & Teacher's Day (ex. Guru Vandana by HSS)
		Q&A
Session 6C	1:30 PM - 2:30 PM	Seniors: Current Issues & Challenges and Resolutions

		Seniors faces many issues and challenges in regard to when to retire and where to settle. Many seniors don't know how to engage them into some meaningful activities. They have ample of time, knowledge and wisdom but lack in enthusiasm and motivations. They are too much concern about the financial and physical well being but gives less importance to service(seva) and spiritual well being. Temples and Institutions should focus into this group and explore the program for the seniors resulting in benefiting both seniors in particular and the

Session 6D	1:30 PM - 2:30 PM	Youth Program
Session 7A	2:30 PM - 3:30 PM	Womens Role in Temple Life and Leadership
		Hindu Dharma is gender inclusive. Over the centuries, there have been many great women leaders that have shaped the Hindu society with their philosophies, such as Gargi and Maitreyi. Today, the role of women in temple life and leadership differs from mandir to mandir. The goal of this panel would be to promote equality of women be it within a temple setting or the role of Hindu women as leaders in the community. It would also identify obstacles that are faced by
7A.1		Workshop
Session 7B	2:30 PM - 3:30 PM	Dealing with the Media
		For decades other religious institutions have developed savvy internal mechanisms in the area of media relations. Hindu temples are yet to catch up. This section will focus on developing a proactive agenda in matters of public relations, damage control, education & maintaining relationships with local media outlets
7B.1		Workshop
Session 7C	2:30 PM - 3:30 PM	Swadeshi Indology and its Relevance to the Hindu Temples in the US

		The current Swadeshi Indology (http://swadeshiindology.com) is a multi-tier effort - with Levels A, B, C, & D - at institutionalizing the ability for Indian Civilization to be able to project its own Grand Narrative worthy of what the great civilization it is. Level A is original research and level B entails discovery and nurturing young scholars of rigor and expertise. Level C is the creation of high quality educational courses on Indian Knowledge systems and Level D is dissemination of information in variety of modes. The conveners of this workshop will explain these levels to the audience and convey the critical need to participate in this endeavor. This will enable them to rise up to the challenge of promoting/educating and defending our Dharma, culture and tradition to Hindus - those from India and the US born. In essence, the material

		Develop a Common Resource handbook for worship (Session 8A Saturday) There is a need to prepare handbooks and/or flyers on a series of topics. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Publications that describe and explain the significance of various rituals performed at temples and in Hindu families. A publication that helps in identifying "Hindu" traits of faith, hence promoting Hindus to speak in one voice about what Hinduism means.
8A.1		Workshop
Session 8B	4:00 PM - 5:30 PM	Temple By Laws and the Legal Implications
		The Bylaws of a not-for-profit organization are the legally binding rules by which the organization is governed. They set forth the structure of the organization and guide the Board of Directors ("Board") in the conduct of its business. In essence, Bylaws are the operating manual for the not-for-profit, by-laws should be unique to each organization and tailored to the needs of the not-for-profit organization. Most or all of the temples are non-for profit, a nonprofit that is exempt from federal income tax, as defined under Internal Revenue Code 501(c)(3), is required to submit a copy of its Bylaws along with its application for tax exemption under IRS form 1023. In this session we will cover 1) the importance of By laws for non for
Session 8C	4:00 PM - 5:30 PM	Hindu Executive Leadership Development

		Temple leadership needs certain skills and knowledge in order to have a successful organization. In volunteer based organization it is not always possible for each member to have those leadership skills and knowledge. Board members as well as the management teams that have these capabilities can lead successfully; on the other hand, lack of these capabilities could lead disastrous effect on the organization as well as the community. The objective of this workshop is to identify those critical skills and knowledge and develop long term strategy to deliver these skills to the leadership team of the organization. Ideally, aspiring leaders should receive this training in advance of their being elected or selected for the leadership positions, a backup option is also needed as an alternative for those who

Session 11	9:00 AM - 10:00 AM	Indic Faith Session: Promoting Solidarity of All Dharmic faiths
		Dharmic or Indic faiths are the religions that originated in the Indian subcontinent and include but are not limited to Hinduism, Jainism, Buddhism and Sikhism. There are a lot of misunderstandings and misconceptions by other faiths, especially Abrahamic religions, regarding Dharmic faiths. While education and awareness are integral to developing tolerance and appreciation for Dharmic/Indic faiths, working closely with each other, standing together as partners and
